RAF Deals Out 2,000 Bomb Tons On Magdeburg; Lose 55 Ships

By TOM YARBROUGH
London, Jan. 22 (AP)—The RAF's campaign to flatten German industrial targets crushed the city of Magdeburg in Saxony last night under more than 2,000 long tons of bombs as the major phase of a great aerial operation which included a smaller attack on Berlin.

The new blows against Germany, following up a heavy 2,200 long ton assault on the capital the previous night, cost the RAF 55 bombers, one of the heaviest losses suffered in a year.

They came while the Germans themselves were stabbing at London and southeast England with two sharp raids by a force of approximately 90 bombers.

Railway Junction
Magdeburg, a city of 300,000 on the left bank of the Elbe river, about 83 miles southwest of Berlin, is a junction point for the main railways to Leipzig, Kassel and Hamburg—all previously hit heavily.

Magdeburg itself was bombed exactly a week before by Mosquitoes while a big fleet of British bombers concentrated on the aircraft manufacturing center of Brunswick, 26 miles away, which some neutral sources now say "ceases to exist."

The Air Ministry described last night's blast at Magdeburg as "a very heavy attack" and said great fires were left burning.

The RAF force which returned to Berlin, where fires still blazed from the 2,300 long ton bombing of the night before, included both four-engine Lancasters and the swift little Mosquitoes.

Found Other Targets
At the same time other bombers struck unidentified targets in France, following up yesterday's 1,000-plane daylight assault on the so-called "rocket gun coast" in the neighborhood of Pas De Calais.

The Germans, goaded into making a counter blow, sent one group of bombers across the channel before midnight and another in the early hours of this morning.

They operated mainly over southeast England, but about 30 of the invaders struck into the London area.

A communiqué said, "bombs were dropped at a number of places. Damage was caused and there were a number of casualties, some of which were fatal."

Eight enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Action in London
The Nazi retaliation, although puny by present-day Allied bombing standards, was the heaviest in months and spectacular enough to remind many Londoners of the "old days." Guns thundered, the skies were alight, and incendiaries as well as high explosives were dropped in the London area and other parts of southeast England.

Damage and casualties were heavier than usual, and throughout the early morning hours rescuers dug for victims by the light of lamps along the Thames estuary. The first raid before midnight, cost the Germans eight planes, the largest number of night raiders downed over Britain in 10 months.

9 OF 13 PASS SERVICE EXAM
Nine of the thirteen Gettysburg and western Adams county men sent to Harrisburg Thursday for final physical examinations were accepted for service with the armed forces, the Gettysburg Selective Service board learned today. The men are the first to be called under the new plan to establish a pool of 1-A men.

Accepted as physically fit for army duty were George Samuel Wadeline, York street; John Howard Rinehart, Orrtanna R. 2, and Earl Carlston Mickle, 101 Chambersburg street, who was immediately inducted in the U. S. Air Force.

The men who passed the physical examinations for U. S. Navy duty included Albert Thomas Koonitz, 80 Steinwehr avenue; William Ernest Knox, 344 South Washington street; Carl Richard Knox, 729 Baltimore street; Ralph Ernest Woodward, Jr., Ridge avenue, and Lawrence Samuel Cole, Biglerville R. 1.

Gerald Eugene Baumgardner, Bendersville, was selected for limited service duty with the army.

The men will be inducted into the army, possibly early in February, as soon as they receive their next call from the local draft board and will report immediately for induction at New Cumberland without being required to take another physical unless their call is delayed more than 90 days.

ENLISTS AS CADET
Paul E. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Myers, York Springs, was enlisted recently as an aviation cadet by the Harrisburg Aviation Cadet Examining Board. He will be subject to call any time within six months after reaching his 18th birthday anniversary.

COUNTY TOLD TO EARMARK FUNDS FOR NEW PRISON

Recommendations that the county earmark some of its funds for the construction of a new jail "as soon as conditions permit" and that a section of the county home be set aside for bed patients were contained in the report of the January grand jury to the Adams county court Friday afternoon.

The jury commended both Sheriff John E. Millhies and Steward Robert Durban for the clean conditions it found at both the jail and the county home and then made the following recommendations:

In regards to the jail, "that the living room be repaired, the wash basin in the prison wash room be replaced and if necessary be replaced and that the props under the wash basin either be removed or securely fastened and that the county commissioners earmark funds to be set aside for the purpose of building a new jail as soon as conditions permit."

The jury recommended for the county home:

Viewers File Report
"Purchase of kitchen utensils, such as a coffee urn or maker as soon as available. At the present time a wash boiler is used to make coffee at the county home; establishment of a section of the county home as an infirmary for bed patients as soon as practical."

At its sessions Friday afternoon the county court confirmed "temporarily" the report of the board of view fixing the damages in the estate of Sarah L. Huberty, late of Mt. Joy township, at $550. The state highway department had used 11-158 square feet of land from the Huberty property in the relocation of the Littlestown-Gettysburg road.

John P. Butt, Esq., LeRoy H. Winebrenner and John W. Lucabaugh comprised the board of view.

Harvey E. Duncan, Union township, was directed to pay $15 a week for the support of his wife and three children until February 28 and to pay $35 every second and fourth Monday thereafter following a hearing on a desertion and non-support charge brought against him by his wife.

Hearings Held
Duncan also was directed to pay the costs and enter into a bond of $500 on his own recognizance. Charges of assault and battery and attempt to stab, wound or cut with a knife brought against Duncan by his wife were dismissed at the request of the wife with Duncan to pay the costs.

Donald Bowers, Littlestown, was ordered to pay $6 a week for the support of his wife and child following a hearing on a desertion and non-support charge. He must pay the costs of the case and was required to enter into a bond of $500 on his own recognizance. A desertion and non-support charge brought against Harold Miller, Gettysburg, was dismissed and he was given 30 days to pay the costs.

Ask Reservations Now For C.C. Dinner
President Mares Sherman of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce today asked members to notify the Chamber office not later than noon Monday that they expect to be guests of the Chamber at the annual membership dinner meeting to be held Tuesday evening at the Battledown hotel. The hour for the dinner is 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Sherman said today that the reservations are coming through very well but that it is important that the number of persons to be served be known by noon Monday.

Nine aviation students from the 55th College Training Detachment (Aircrew), Army Air Corps, at Gettysburg college will furnish a variety of entertainment for the evening. At a brief business session, the report of the nominating committee will be presented.

Red Cross Ships Kits, Garments
Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the Adams County Red Cross, announced that 72 Army kits for men overseas were shipped today.

She also revealed that 75 knitted garments for Army and Navy personnel were shipped today.

NEELY WILL FILED
The will of J. Harvey Neely, late of York Springs, has been entered at the court house. Bess L. Neely and William M. Weidner, York Springs, are the executors.

FARM IS SOLD
Nevin Pitzer, trustee of the estate of David L. Pitzer, late of Mt. Pleasant township, sold to Charles W. Keller, Mt. Pleasant township a 125-acre property in that township.

The Mary Wolfe Slentz Beauty Shop will be closed from Feb. 12 to March 6.

$149,823 In Bond Sales

Adams county did not quite reach $150,000 in bond sales at the close of the fourth day of the Fourth War Bond Drive Friday, according to figures released this morning.

Five issuing agents and most of the post offices today reported sales totaling $7,706.25 which brought the total announced sales up to $149,823. This figure is far short of the anticipated total for the first four days of the campaign.

However, observers were still confident that the county sales are far in excess of that figure. Most of the issuing agents have not reported sales since the opening of the drive on Tuesday.

HAUSER HEADS MUSSELMAN'S CANNING PLANT
John Hauser, Biglerville, was elected president of the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, at a meeting of the board of directors held at the plant Friday afternoon.

Mrs. C. H. Musselman was elected vice president; Mrs. L. Musselman Arnold, second vice president and secretary; J. Pierce Hollabaugh, treasurer, reelected, and Elmer Yoder, renamed a member of the board. J. F. Kanagy was elected a new member of the board.

The board announced that the usual policies of the company will be continued in the future.

Mr. Hauser was graduated from Temple university in 1932 where he majored in transportation. He went to the Musselman company from the York Motor Express company in 1934 to serve as traffic manager. He has been production manager at the plant since 1939.

Local Soldier Gets Good Conduct Ribbon
Pfc. John H. Myers, son of Mrs. Amanda E. Myers, 410 South Washington street, has been awarded a good conduct ribbon and has been appointed a battalion file clerk.

Pfc. Myers, who is now serving in Italy and has been overseas for over a year, received his basic training at Ft. Meade, Maryland. Later he was stationed at Ft. Dix, New Jersey, and in North Africa. He is a graduate of Gettysburg high school.

Apple Prices Show Increase At Market
The price of apples showed another increase today at the Farmers' market house where the price per quarter peck jumped from 25 to 30 cents with the top price for bushels of apples quoted at $4.50.

Fruitmen at the market said the supply of apples for retail here is dwindling rapidly.

Egg prices continued at 40 cents per dozen while the prices on pork and other winter staples remained unchanged.

Between Two Fires

Soldiers "Thrilled" County Exceeded Bond Quota; Priest Eulogizes Lutheran Chaplain
Capt. George H. Berkheimer, former pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran church and now serving in the Chaplain's Corps in the armed forces in New Guinea, tells how Christmas was spent in that theatre of operations in a letter to The Gettysburg Times.

He also tells of the eulogy paid a Lutheran chaplain by a Roman Catholic priest and how the men in his outfit were thrilled at the news that Adams county "went over the top" in the Third War Bond drive.

His letter follows:

ATTEMPT TO AID COMRADE COST COUNTIAN'S LIFE

Events leading to the death of Pfc. Joseph M. Byer, 19, of Orrtanna, son of Mark E. Byer, Harrisburg, during Marine action in the Pacific are related by Tech. Sgt. Theo. C. Link of St. Louis, a Marine Corps combat correspondent, and distributed by the Associated Press. Private Byer's death was reported in The Gettysburg Times in December.

Private Byer was born in Harrisburg but went to Orrtanna at the age of six months to live with his grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Byer, who now resides in Wormleysburg. He was reared in Orrtanna and attended Fairfield high school for three years.

He volunteered for service in the Marine Corps in the summer of 1942 and after a preliminary training period was sent to the Pacific war theatre. Private Byer, the 16th countian to die in the service during this war, was buried near the place where he was killed in action against the Japs.

Possibly At Tarawa
The place never was disclosed but by reason of the fact that word of his death arrived soon after the heavy fighting at Tarawa, members of the family believe he fell in that assault.

Sergeant Link's account of the fighting in which Byer was killed follows:

Bougainville, Solomon Islands—Attempts to rescue a Marine sergeant who was shot by Jap snipers cost the life of Pfc. Joseph M. Byer, Harrisburg, Pa., and of a Marine officer, Maj. Glenn E. Fissel, San Diego, California, formerly of Columbus, Ohio.

Shot By Sniper
The graphic story of how he laid among dead Japs in front of the Marine lines on the Numa-Numa trail for 50 hours while desperately wounded, was related today by Marine Sgt. Irving E. Brown, of Rockne, Illinois, who was shot when a unit at the point of an advance through the jungle was ambushed by camouflaged and dug-in Japs.

"When the lieutenant and platoon sergeant in charge of my outfit were killed in the first burst of fire, the command fell to me. I ordered an advance. Maybe I did wrong but our idea was to go ahead and take ground for an airfield."

Sergeant Brown related, only a few hours after he was brought in.

"I recall the first shot that hit me—it was from a sniper in the trees and it ricocheted from something else and got me in the head. Then in rapid succession they poured three more bullets into me and I fell down. I couldn't move my right side. Another Marine private first class was shot in the chest at the same time but, as he could walk they managed to get him out and came back for me."

"Each time the Marines made a sortie in my direction, the Japs let go with all they had. I had fallen in a small valley between two hills and between the positions of two Jap machine guns. Their fire swept right across me—a few inches over my body."

Seven Clubs Will Meet Next Week

Seven meetings of Adams county home economics clubs have been announced for the coming week by Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative.

The Barlow foods club meets Monday at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Mervin Benner while the Greenmount foods club will meet the same day at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Walter Null. The York Springs club is scheduled to meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. E. E. Neill. On Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. the Round Top club will meet with Mrs. John Goodermuth, 238 East Middle street and the same day the New Chester club meets at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Willis Plank. On Thursday the East Berlin club will meet with Mrs. John H. Myers at 1:30 p. m. and the Hampton club will meet with Mrs. G. W. Gordon at 7:30 p. m.

MRS. TROSTEL DIES FRIDAY

Mrs. Ella Weidner Trostel, 59, wife of the Rev. Ira W. Trostel, died at her home in Lansdowne Friday noon from the effects of a paralytic stroke suffered January 12.

She was a daughter of the late Solomon and Sidney (Fitzgerald) Weidner and was a native of Adams county. The deceased was a graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers' college and taught in the public schools of Adams county for a number of years. She was a member of the Lansdowne Lutheran church and was active in many religious organizations especially in the churches served by her husband. The Rev. Mr. Trostel is a former pastor of the Upper Meridian and Goodyear Lutheran churches. During his county pastorate the Trostels resided in Idaville, later going to Shillington and from there to Lansdowne where they resided the last three years.

In addition to her husband the deceased is survived by four children, Elizabeth and Jean, both at home; the Rev. Hiram Trostel, a chaplain with the U. S. Army Air Corps in Oklahoma, and T. Sgt. I. William Trostel, who is serving in the Southwest Pacific. Two grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Routsong-Dugan Funeral home, Bendersville, conducted by the Rev. M. Gortner, of the Lansdowne Lutheran church, and the Rev. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville. Interment in Greenmount cemetery, Arendtsville. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Services Tuesday For Mrs. John Delp

Funeral services for Mrs. Thresa Ida Delp, 69, wife of John Delp, who died Friday morning at 9 o'clock at her home, Gardners R. 1, Latimore township, from complications, will be held from the late home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with further services at the Chestnut Grove Lutheran church conducted by the Rev. Ralph Meckley. Interment in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Delp, who had been ill in health a number of years, resided her entire life in upper Adams county and died in the house in which she was born. She was a daughter of the late D. W. and Catherine (Fickel) Miller.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ray Umphred, Gardners R. 1, and one brother, Joseph R. Miller, Dixon, Illinois. A number of nephews and nieces also survive.

Friends may call at the late home Monday evening.

Sons Of Veterans Install Officers

Newly elected officers of the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans were installed at the regular meeting of the organization Friday evening at the GAR home on East Middle street. Department Commander Jesse E. Snyder, conducted the installation.

The new officers include Commander, George M. Coshum; senior vice commander, Harry E. Koch; junior vice commander, William L. Meals, Jr.; camp council, Jesse E. Snyder, George P. Black and W. Preston Hull; secretary, William L. Meals, Esq.; treasurer, Arthur W. Warman, patriotic instructor, Jesse E. Snyder; chaplain, George P. Black; guide, Henry T. Biddle; color bearer, Maurice A. Miller; inside guard, George Slonaker; outside guard, William McG. Tawney.

Department Commander Snyder announced that the annual state encampment of the SUV will be held the third week in June in Hazleton. The largest number of members in several years attended the meeting Friday.

Commandos, Rangers Invade Italy Behind Nazis' Defense Line

Allies Advance Near Cassino
Arrows indicate Allied drives in the Cassino area of the Italian front, where French troops have crossed the Rapido river. Minturno was reported in the hands of the British. American patrols thrusting across the Rapido below Cassino were withdrawn. Black line is approximate battle line.

ASSERT ROME SUPPLY LINES IN NORTH CUT

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Jan. 22 (AP)—British and American Commandos, Rangers and troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army invaded the west coast of Italy in an amphibious landing deep behind the German lines at dawn today in a bold stroke to break the winter stand of the Germans below Rome.

An announcement said the initial operation was carried out successfully and the "situation is developing satisfactorily."

At the same time, British, American and French troops opened up a general overland frontal attack against the Germans along the Gustav line at Cassino.

Landing Supplies
The first troops of the new invasion thrust got ashore before dawn and as they spread out over the terrain succeeding waves followed and the task of landing supplies began almost immediately.

(A German broadcast said the landing was made between Nettuno, near Anzio about 30 miles southeast of the mouth of the Tiber, just above the Pontine marshes.)

(The harbor of Nettuno has been occupied, the broadcast said.)

("In view of the impossibility of breaking German resistance at the southern Italian front," the broadcast declared, "the Allies decided in the course of last night to resort to a system of landings.")

("Under cover of darkness," the broadcast continued, "they succeeded in forming bridgeheads between Nettuno and the mouth of the Tiber south of Rome and in occupying Nettuno harbor. There are as yet no details about the progress of the heavy fighting which developed since the early hours of today.")

Take Prisoners
First reports which came here from advanced headquarters in Italy did not indicate the degree of German resistance encountered by the landing units.

The smash into the Liro valley came from the Cassino area, where American and French troops have been pressing against the German Gustav line. American troops crossed the Rapido river "under withering fire," the communique said.

British troops, who crossed the lower Garigliano river early Monday, seized Tremosoli, about a mile north of captured Minturno, and farther inland occupied Vandra, about a half mile north of the Garigliano. The British took 450 prisoners.

French troops converging on Cassino from the northeast seized an important height.

A special communique announced the new thrusts but did not give the location of the landing. The bulletin said merely American and British troops went ashore "along a beach front extending several miles from north to south."

Aerial Attacks
Landing in the pale light of a dwindling moon, the big force, including American Rangers and British Commandos, seized the stretch of shore and began a fierce battle to extend their bridgehead.

The offensive followed terrific air attacks in which German communications from the north were shattered.

For the past weeks the air forces have been waging an intensive "softening up campaign," directed mainly against communications leading into Rome and the airfields of the Rome area.

It was definitely established two days ago that Rome had been cut off from rail communications from the north.

That time additional relentless air attacks were made on these lines. On the eve of the attack bombers ranged over the area between Florence and Rome, smashing all routes into the Eternal City.

Air attacks leading up to the landings included bomber raids yesterday on Salon and Istres Les Tubes airfields near Marseille—bases from German torpedo equipped aircraft.

Reds Capture Key Rail Junction Near Leningrad

London, Jan. 22 (AP)—Soviet capture of Mga, key rail junction, 30 miles southeast of Leningrad, has reunited Russia's second city by rail with Moscow for the first time since the city was laid under siege by the Germans two years ago. Moscow dispatches reported today.

At the same time Leningrad gained a permanent rail link to tap Lend-Lease supplies coming from the northern port of Murmansk through Volkhov. During the siege Allied supplies have been reaching the northern city over a railway built on Lake Ladoga's ice and a highway wrested from the enemy a year ago.

Capture of Mga, hailed by Premier Stalin yesterday in a special order of the day, liquidated the tip of a salient long held by the Germans southeast of the former Czarist capital.

Frees Railway
Reduction of the strategic junction climaxed a new breakthrough on a 30-mile front from the Nerva river southeast to the town of Vinogorovo. It freed from German control the railway running from Leningrad to Moscow, 400 miles to the southeast, via Volkhov, Volga and Yaroslavl. Under direct pressure from the advancing Soviet forces was the main Leningrad-Moscow trunk railway a few miles westward.

The two northern Russian armies were on the offensive along the whole length and breadth of the Leningrad and Volkhov fronts, the Moscow communique reported. Led by Gen. Leonid A. Govorov and Kyril A. Meretskov, both of whom were cited by Stalin for the capture of Mga.

Nazis Retreating
"Under continuous blows by Soviet troops the enemy is rolling back in a southerly direction and abandoning one fortified place after another," the War bulletin announced.

County Soldiers Meet In Italy

Pvt. Harold R. Miller, York Springs, and Sergeant Kermit Sterner, Gettysburg, recently held an "Adams county reunion" somewhere in Italy according to word received by Pvt. Miller's parents.

The meeting with Sergeant Sterner marked the first time that Pvt. Miller has met anyone he knew in civilian life in the 17 months he has been overseas. The two county soldiers, who are stationed about ten miles from each other at the present time, trained at the same camp in Virginia when they first entered military service.

Both are looking forward to securing a free day so they can spend it together. Pvt. Miller wrote his parents, and both are in good health and are looking forward to the time when they can come back to Adams county to stay.

REDS EXACTING PUNISHMENT FOR CRIMES AGAINST THEIR PEOPLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
When you stop to consider the titanic struggle along the Russo-German front, what feature strikes you most forcibly after you've noted that the Red avalanche continues its westward sweep.

Slaughter!
That certainly is one of the most impressive, and most significant, aspects of this crucial phase of the war in eastern Europe. The Muscovites are advancing over the bodies of dead Germans.

Comparatively few prisoners are being taken by the Red forces, and the rapidly retreating Hitlerites are in no position to capture many Muscovites. Thus the casualties which the Nazis are inflicting on the Russians—and they presumably are considerable, although we lack figures—likewise are mainly in killed and wounded.

Nazi Panic-Stricken
In the first six days of the great new Russian offensive on the Leningrad-Novgorod front, Moscow reported that 40,000 Germans had been slain. General Leonid Govorov's troops in the Leningrad area accounted for 25,000 of the dead, and the other 15,000 were killed before the ancient stronghold of Novgorod to the south. The Moscow radio summed up the situation with grim satisfaction like this:

"German forces are bleeding profusely. They are panic-stricken under the threatening tentacle of a mighty Soviet army of retribution. 'Retribution'—that burns in the mind of the Red soldier. He is exacting punishment for crimes against his own people.

To be sure, a quarter million German troops near Nienburg are threatened with being trapped. That likely will mean prisoners if the trap closes, but the way things are going it also will mean a mountain of dead.

To Bloody End
On November 6 last, Marshal Stalin announced that the Nazis had suffered 4,000,000 casualties on the Russian front during the previous year. Of this huge total 1,800,000 were killed. There were 147,200 buried at Stalingrad. Moscow reported that 100,000 Hitlerites were killed on the Ukraine front alone in the first three weeks of 1944.

So it has gone, and so it's likely to continue to the bloody end. While the desire to exact retribution accounts for much of the bitterness of the fighting in Russia, that isn't the full explanation. The great military experts are agreed that annihilation of the enemy is the one sure way to victory—and they mean killing or capture. The mere forcing of the foe to abandon territory doesn't win wars.

Trapping Movements
The Prussian war lords always have been leading exponents of annihilation. Now they are being served with a big dish of their own strong meat. The Russians have consistently pursued annihilation tactics in their offensives. Almost invariable their attacks have been turning movements, designed to trap men. The many curving Red thrusts now cutting through the thousand miles or so of German battle line, look like so many sickles—part of the emblem on the Soviet union.

No wonder the Germans are short of reserves. Their lack of men is one of the prime causes of their growing weakness.

So far as concerns the Leningrad-Novgorod battle, catastrophe is casting its black shadow over the Hitlerite ranks. It will take all the undoubted skill of their command to extricate them from their perilous position. And even if they escape the trap, it means a disastrous defeat.

An early result would be the collapse of Finland. Continued Red success also would force the evacuation of the Baltic states, thereby further endangering the whole Nazi front in Russia.

Three Children Are Asphyxiated

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—Three children died of asphyxiation and their mother was burned seriously today when fire swept their two-story dwelling.

Coroner T. F. Nugent identified the victims as William Sweeney, 2, and his sisters, Rose Ann, 9 and Eileen 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney.

The mother was taken to New Castle hospital after a passerby, attracted by her screams, extinguished her blazing night clothing as she rushed out of the house.

The father was at work when the fire broke out. Assistant Fire chief George Harper, who said the blaze apparently originated in a clothes closet, estimated damage at $1,600.

Harper said Mrs. Sweeney apparently had tried to rescue the children but came separated from them in the smoke-filled house.

Haydn composed 194 symphonies.

S. E. Firemen's Unit To Meet In Gettysburg

The next meeting of the Firemen's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania will be held in Gettysburg on April 20, it was announced at the January meeting of the organization in York, Thursday evening. Adams county firemen were among the members from seven counties who attended the session.

The speaker of the evening Jacob E. Weaver, York, first president and organizer of the group, expressed gratification at the progress made by the organization since its founding Dec. 15, 1921.

Other speakers were Curtis A. Schaberg, York, director of public safety; Charles D. Troutman, Lebanon, director of public safety; Stanley R. Eden, of the York Safe and Lock company; Joseph H. Sparr, chief of the West York Fire company; Curtis H. Kunkle, chief of the Stewartstown fire company and president of the York County association, James D. Dougherty, Mechanicsburg.

The newly-installed president, Val E. Vanderau of Chambersburg announced committees for the coming year.

Theatres To Aid Paralysis Drive

The 1944 infantile paralysis fund campaign will be carried into Adams county's theatres Monday when high school girls will begin passing collection boxes through the audiences following a screen appeal from Greer Garson.

Sydney J. Poppy, county chairman of the film industry's committee, said he expects collections to exceed the $388.76 contributed by the theatre audiences last year. County theatres participating in the campaign are the Earl, New Oxford; Regent, Littlestown; Majestic and Strand, Gettysburg. Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart, a member of the local committee will be in charge of the high school girls taking the collections.

Mrs. Amanda S. Reese

Mrs. Amanda S. Reese, 76, widow of John R. Reese, Westminster, Md., died Friday morning at 5:30 o'clock from a heart condition.

She was a daughter of the late Uriah and Mary Ann Baughman, Fuhrman, and was born November 21, 1867. She was a member of the Lutheran congregation of St. Bartholomew's Union church.

Surviving her are five children, Mrs. Maurice Leister, Westminster, Md.; Clemington G. Reese, Broadway, Hanover; John W. Reese, Hanover, R. 2; Mrs. Ezra Laughman, Abbotstown, R. 1, and Mrs. Hilda Hess, Stroudsburg, Pa.; six grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren, and four brothers, Theodore Fuhrman, Hanover, R. 3; William Fuhrman and Edward Fuhrman, Hanover, and Murray Fuhrman, Jacobs Mills. Funeral Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover, with the Rev. Albert M. Hollinger, pastor of the West Manheim Lutheran church, officiating. Interment in St. Bartholomew's cemetery.

Mrs. C. F. Kissel

Mrs. Amanda Kissel, 72, wife of Charles P. Kissel, died Friday at 8:05 a. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kissel, Manchester. Death was caused by complication of diseases.

Mrs. Kissel was a native of Adams county and was also a resident of East Prospect vicinity for the past seven years. Surviving besides her husband are these children by former marriage, Mrs. John Jackson, Oxford; Fred, Charles and Calvin Roof and Mrs. Roy Aldick, Detroit, Mich.; six grandchildren; five step-children, Harry Kissel, Camden, N. J.; Jacob Kissel, Manchester; Mrs. Merrill Weirich, York Haven, and Mrs. Grant Harbold and Mrs. Eugene Lawrence, both of York.

Funeral services Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Zeigler funeral home, Manchester. The Rev. John E. Rine, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, Manchester, will officiate. Interment in Steelton cemetery.

Rankin Bill Is Called "Delusion"

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Rankin bill which provides that each of the 48 states administer the voting of its soldiers in the 1944 presidential election was termed "a tragic snare and delusion to our armed forces" by Rep. Thomas E. Scanlon (D-Pa.) here last night.

In an address before the Democratic Women's Guild, Scanlon accused "Republicans and Southern Poll-Taxers" of "obstructing legislation designed to give the soldiers the vote," and asserted:

"A petty group of partisan politicians has flaunted the expressed desires of the American people in one of the most shoddy subterfuges to disfranchise our fighting forces."

Scanlon explained a bill he introduced in the house as a companion measure to the Green-Lucas bill. This measure he said was non-partisan in character and "a guarantee of an effective, secret ballot."

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS

Boy Krouse, Littlestown camper, will be the speaker Monday at the regular meeting of the Rotary club at the YWCA at 6 p. m.

SENATE PASSES NEW AMENDED TAX MEASURE

By FRANK J. KELLY

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Congress reached the last lap of its labor on a new $2,275,000,000 added revenues bill today before most taxpayers had sharpened pencils for their March 15 income returns.

Eight weeks after receiving the bill from the house, the senate yesterday approved it in amended form by a voice vote and today it was on its way to a house-senate conference to adjust differences. It carries approximately $130,000,000 more revenue than the house version and is expected to swell annual treasury receipts to more than $43,500,000,000.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the finance committee will head the senate conferees, who will meet next week with their counterparts from the house. Other senators on the list are Walsh (D-Mass), Barkley (D-Ky) Connally (D-Tex), LaFollette (Prog-Wis), Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Davis (R-Pa).

Excess Profits Tax

Principal differences between the house and senate bills involve the treatment of individual income taxes and the renegotiation of war contracts. The two houses were virtually together on increases in the corporate excess profits tax, estimated to bring in $502,700,000 more than the present rates.

The senate bill would capture $664,900,000 more from individual income tax payers, through elimination of the earned income credit and the deductions for federal excise taxes paid. However the senators jettisoned the house program for integrating the victory tax with the income tax on the ground the machinery was too cumbersome. Instead, the senate voted to make the victory tax a straight 3 per cent levy on income over $624 a year, regardless of family status.

Although numerous variations remained between the house and senate amendments to the war contracts renegotiation act, the finance committee gave ground on some of the more drastic of its proposed changes.

DEMS TURN TO FOURTH TERM RUNNING MATE

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—A fourth term nomination for President loomed so certain in the minds of many members of the Democratic National committee today that they began planning for what may be the only major battle at the projected July convention in Chicago—the choice of a Vice President.

Most party organization members, meeting formally today to hear Chairman Frank Walker offer his resignation and elect Robert E. Hannegan, 40-year-old St. Louisan in his place, gave only perfunctory attention to the routine business of the day. Their minds admittedly were on the tough battle ahead with the Republicans.

Many Back F.D.R.

Almost to a man they were agreed that President Roosevelt must run again if they are to stem the resurgent GOP tide. Even the midwest Democratic conference members, widely touted as possible "insurgents," recognized this with a resolution endorsing the fourth term.

James C. Quigley, Nebraska committeeman, presented this resolution later at the White House to the President. Quigley said he received only a non-committal "Oh."

After a White House reception for committee members, James P. Aylward, of Missouri, voiced the sentiments of an apparent majority with the comment:

"The party is united behind the President for a fourth term." There was one piece missing in the almost complete picture puzzle—the identity of the Vice Presidential candidate.

Rayburn On Air

Two potential candidates, Vice President Henry A. Wallace, and Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) of the House, were on the program for tonight's $100-a-plate Jackson Day dinner which will wind up the committee's meeting. Wallace had a five-minute time allotment without a broadcast. Rayburn was down for 15 minutes, with the radio carrying his message.

Although there have been reports that Wallace might be dropped from the ticket as a political liability, the Vice President showed unexpected strength among delegates. Former Gov. Culbert L. Olson, a national committeeman, said California's delegation would be for his renomination. Jake More, Iowa state chairman, said Wallace's home state would support him. Other state representatives said Wallace would be acceptable if he is the President's choice.

BURNS TO DEATH

Canonsburg, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—John Kordeil, 62, burned to death yesterday when fire destroyed the seven-room frame residence of his brother-in-law, Anthony Watassek, in nearby Strabane.

Upper Communities

Mrs. Oscar C. Rice returned today to her home in Biglerville from Lansdowne where she was called by the illness and death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ira Trostle.

Mrs. L. Musselman Arnold and Miss Lena Boyer, Biglerville, motored to Harrisburg today to meet Pfc. J. H. Triplehorn, of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, who will spend the week-end in Biglerville.

Bishop Announces Three Transfers

Harrisburg, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, today announced three transfers in the Catholic diocese of Harrisburg, effected next Wednesday.

They are: The Rev. Francis X. Feiser, pastor of St. Andrew's church of Waynesboro, leave of absence because of ill health.

The Rev. Carl B. Brady, from principal of York Catholic high school to pastor of the Waynesboro church.

The Rev. William J. Fitzpatrick, assistant pastor of Assumption of Blessed Virgin Mary church, Lancaster, to principal of the York Catholic high school.

YOUTH IS HELD ON OPA CHARGE

Harrisburg, Jan. 22 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner William S. Middleton has held Anthony Thomas, 31, Harrisburg, arrested on the information supplied by a wounded Marine corporal, for appearance in U. S. District court at Philadelphia on a charge of illegally acquiring and possessing gasoline stamps.

Thomas was held under $1,500 bond yesterday after Marvin H. Cullison, OPA investigator, asserted gasoline coupons worth 7,280 gallons, which OPA said were found in Thomas' possession, had been proved to be counterfeit under ultraviolet ray tests.

A. C. Okerberg, Pennsylvania railroad policeman, who nabbed Thomas here Thursday, testified he met Corp. Edgar W. Lochrie, 20, Johnston Marine, and Thomas in the railroad station here and Lochrie declared "I want him (Thomas) arrested."

Lochrie, in a statement to OPA authorities, accused Thomas of offering to get him into a "good racket" in gasoline coupons as they rode together on a train from Philadelphia. Lochrie, who was wounded in the southwest Pacific, was en route to a war bond rally in his home town.

Cullison also testified Thomas made a statement to OPA which he said detailed information on the source of the coupons in Philadelphia.

QUEEN NAMES NEW U.S. CONSUL

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 (AP)—James H. F. Veltman today announced his appointment by Queen Wilhelmina as consul in western Pennsylvania for the Netherlands government-in-exile with the plea for a greater understanding of the plight of the Dutch people under the Nazi heel.

"The suppression of Hollanders has been cruel and relentless but they are a stubborn people and not given to defeat easily," he said.

The 41-year-old consul, first to be appointed for western Pennsylvania which formerly was under jurisdiction of the Philadelphia consulate, added:

"The underground in the Netherlands is strong. They are all pointing toward the forthcoming invasion when their efforts combined with those of the invading Allies will once again free the oppressed of Holland and the remainder of occupied Europe."

Veltman, born in Holland, was reared as a youth in the Dutch East Indies. After a number of years of employment by the Shell Oil holdings there, he returned to the homeland to study petroleum chemistry.

His work gained him recognition in the United States and he came here in 1930. Seven years ago, he accepted a research fellowship from the Koppers company to continue his experiments at Mellon institute.

RICHEST TOURNEY OPENS

Chicago, Jan. 22 (AP)—The richest bowling tournament in history opened today, the 31st renewal of the Peterson individual classic, with $32,000 in prizes, including a top award of $5,100. There are 1,280 bowlers entered.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Titusville, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—Caught in the shaft of a crane which he had been greasing 50 feet in the air, Paul Carlson, 34, was crushed to death yesterday in the boiler shop of the Titusville Iron Works.

Senator Davis Mum On Campaign Plans

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 (AP)—U. S. Sen. James J. Davis (R-Pa.) will have nothing to say in regard to his possible candidacy for re-election until after the tax and subsidy bills have passed the senate, he said today.

Legislation dealing with renegotiation of war contracts also is taking a lot of his time, Davis declared. He said:

"You can't have these bills in your head and think about politics at the same time."

Davis attended the 70th annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce last night but did not address the group.

SEIZE CONSUL OF ARGENTINA AS NAZI AGENT

Buenos Aires, Jan. 22 (AP)—The British have seized an Argentine Consul as an "enemy agent," the Argentine foreign office has announced, and an investigation is now underway to determine whether a spy ring is operating within Argentina.

Several persons already have been detained in connection with the probe, last night's announcement said. The investigation was launched by the Argentine government after Osmar Alberto Hellmuth, recently named as Auxiliary Consul, Barcelona, Spain, was taken by British officials from a vessel at Trinidad while en route to his post.

Trinidad is a British possession off the Venezuela coast. "The British Foreign Office informed this chancery (foreign office) that detention was the result of information that proved Hellmuth was an enemy agent," the communique declared, and Hellmuth "has been relieved of his functions because his conduct appears to have been compromising."

New Staff Member

Hellmuth was one of the newest members of the consulate staff.

Asserting that "as information supplied by the British foreign office may imply the existence of an espionage organization in our country, of which Hellmuth was said to be a member," the announcement said that "the government has ordered an ample investigation and has given all information to the federal police."

An Associated Press dispatch from Montevideo, Uruguay, said yesterday that the newspaper La Razon had published a purported photograph of a letter signed by Ruppert Weillhermer, secretary of the political bureau of the German embassy at Buenos Aires, instructing all Nazi agents in South America to do their utmost this year to break up the Pan-American bloc.

Indicted Pair Face New Accusations

In a state police raid conducted this morning about 3:45 o'clock at Cross Keys, Mrs. Florence Stambaugh, 22, New Oxford R. D., and Richard Gladfield, 21, Hanover, were arrested by Pvt. Robert Deltich and Harold K. Trout of the Gettysburg detail of the state police. Both were committed to jail here in default of bail.

A state policeman from York has charged the pair with conducting a disorderly house. The informations were laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore where hearings are being planned for Monday.

Both defendants were indicted in Adams county court Friday on serious charges.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

A son was born January 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Brehm, Gardners, at the Carlisle hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis T. Miller, Gardners R. 2, announce the birth of a son at the Carlisle hospital, January 13.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Paul Tyson, Lockport, New York, announce the birth of a son, Raye Julian, on January 3. Mr. Tyson is a son of Mrs. Chester J. Tyson, Flora Dale.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Charles Chronister, Gardners; Mrs. William Demko, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Emma Seft, Gettysburg, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitez, Emmitsburg; Ray James Little, High street; Mrs. William Sanders and infant daughter, Rebecca Ann, Taneytown, and Mrs. Bernard Hollinger and infant son, Bernard Leroy, Jr., Biglerville.

ADDRESSES SCOUTS

D. D. Crisp, York, field director for the York-Adams area of the Boy Scouts, was a speaker Friday evening at the regular meeting of Troop 78 held in the Knights of Columbus rooms, center square. Following the sport meeting Crisp met with the council of the troop to discuss plans for the coming year for the organization.

Entertain Troops
"Christmas Eve will be devoted to entertaining the troops. The Red Cross, Special Service and Chaplain's Corps are cooperating in this endeavor. Nine Christmas parties will run simultaneously throughout our base in theatre areas, each capable of accommodating several thousand men. The Special Service will provide a movie, band, special instrumental and vocal numbers and a leader for group vocal singing, at each area. A representative of the Red Cross will bring the greetings of the American Red Cross and distribute gifts to one and all. We will have a chaplain present at each party to bring a Christmas message. The entire program promises to be entertainment on the highest level. The spirit of cooperation existing between these three branches of the service is remarkable. We all have the interest of the men at heart and to that end we labor together.
"I mentioned above the fact that these entertainments will be on a high plane. Let me add that that is the type the men appreciate. I do not want to appear critical or appear to be unappreciative of the efforts of you folks back home to provide entertainment for the men in the various theatres of operation. We know that you too have our welfare at heart. However, some of the stars who come down here probably return to the States wondering if it really was worth while. Why is it that they all think that the men want that which savors of the sexy? Many of them come to us chock full of stories and jokes that are not only on the shady side but oft times definitely obscene. No, this is not the chaplain giving a lecture on morality. I am voicing the reactions of the men. Very few have talked to me about it but that is not necessary. I attend these shows. You can easily tell what men like by the amount of applause they give to each number.
Want Good Shows
"They applaud the stars out of courtesy and because the master of ceremonies urges them to but they are seldom called back for encores. On the other hand the numbers that usually 'bring down the house' are the ones put on by local talent—men from our own organizations. Those acts consist of singing, instrumental music, tap dancing, etc. Perhaps that is not the highest but it is clean fun, good entertainment and it is what the men want. To me it speaks volumes on the caliber of the men we have in this theatre. Don't stop sending us shows but those of you who are responsible for sending them tell those who come to give the boys something worthwhile and they will be clapped back again and again and when they leave they will know that they have really made a contribution to the building up of morale.

"We of the Chaplain's Corps here in this area have passed through some trying moments lately. Two of our number have died within the past two weeks. I mention this not to call

MAROONS QUELL TORNADO QUINT BY 52-26 SCORE

Outscoring their opponents by a two to one margin, the Gettysburg high cagers swung back into the race for the Southern Division title of the Southern Pennsylvania scholastic league here Friday evening by beating Waynesboro 52-26 before a large crowd.

From start to finish the Maroons had everything their own way and it was only in the first few minutes of play that Waynesboro offered much opposition.

Coach Mel Dry used his varsity lineup sparingly, using an entire new team throughout the second quarter and for half of the final period.

McLaughlin Returns

One of the pleasing surprises of the evening was the first appearance of Pat McLaughlin in the lineup as a substitute center. McLaughlin, who suffered a fractured leg early in the football season, had been counted upon heavily this year by the Maroons and if Friday evening's performance can be any criterion he may prove of considerable value in remaining games. He moved around the floor in easy style and landed seven points for the evening.

Top scoring honors fell again to Bobby March who ripped the cords for 18 points. The Maroons played nice ball as a whole and found little difficulty in puncturing the Waynesboro defense.

Waynesboro drew first blood when Lashaw was fouled on the first play and landed a foul. A few seconds later Gorman netted a close shot and then the Tornado went ahead for the last time on a long chuck by Stenger. March made good on three charity throws in succession and followed with a goal and from then on it was all Gettysburg. At the close of the first period the Dry-men led 18-5.

Reserves Appear

An entire new Gettysburg team took the floor in the second period and used its height to advantage to outscore its rivals to put the locals out in front 29-12 at half time.

With the regulars back in action in the third period the Maroons liked their total to 44 points mainly through 10 points by March. Stenger and Valentine netted goals for the visitors who trailed 44-23 at the quarter.

Gettysburg was content for the most part in polishing up on its passing in the last round with the reserves and regulars each playing five minutes.

Scrubs Triumph

Coach Rog Smith's jayvees took another game by winning the preliminary 33-23. After leading by a wide margin in the first half, the Maroons fell apart in the third quarter to enable the Tornado to tie the count at 20-all at the close of the round but in the last period a trio of goals by Hershey and two by Raffensperger sewed up the decision.

Tuesday evening the Maroons will meet Carlisle of the Northern Division at Carlisle.

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—While Branch Rickey insists that no player "who will be with the Brooklyn club" will be offered a salary slash this year, the Mahatma of Montague street apparently isn't too certain that they'll sign without an argument.

Rickey points out that when players are plentiful, a club can afford to take an independent attitude towards those who balk but this year, what with the draft hanging over them, war plant salaries to think about and very little competition for places on a club, the opposite may be true. Branch should have had an ear to the ground at the recent Nebraska-Oklahoma basketball game when Coach Ed Lewandowski, who had to send two players back to Nebraska before the contest, merely remarked: "All I can do is cooperate with the inevitable."

HARD TO SCARE, TOO

When Coach Dick Irvin of the Montreal Canadiens met Pitcher Mort Cooper of the Cardinals recently he said: "From your pictures I always thought you were a great big grouchy sort of guy." Cooper grinned: "You gotta look tough in print because the Yankees read the papers and they're hard to fool."

Johanny Risko suffered a broken arm the other day when he fell asleep driving his car and crashed into a post—proving there's no bounce left in the rubber man. Oklahoma U., which made out right well by moving several football and basketball games from Norman to Oklahoma City, may transfer several of its 1944 grid games to the state capital. And the Cornell Dartmouth game, which visited Buffalo and Boston the past two seasons, may go to New York city next. Mel Hein, playing on Schenectady, New York, YMCA basketball team with Lieut. Ozzie Cowles, former Dartmouth coach, Al Clappa from Columbia and Al Irwin, former College of Pacific guard, is averaging better than 20 points a game. Pauline Betz, national tennis champ, is trying her hand at table tennis in the New York state championships.

MATTER OF OPINION

From this distance, we can't quite see the point of the Southeastern conference fining Georgia $500 for using ineligible football players. It sounds more like the kind of punishment handed out in professional sports and the purpose of appointing a SEC commissioner (as we got it) was to get rid of that "pro" taint.

SERVICE DEPT.

Basil Ellington, former Louisville schoolboy star, and property of the Baltimore Orioles, is getting a great kick out of playing baseball in the South Pacific with a team on which Bob Feller is pitcher, manager and cleanup hitter. On Christmas Day Bob pitched a four-hit shutout and fanned 16 "all star" rivals. Al Blozis, the grid Giants' giant, feels he might be useful in chemical warfare if the Army passes him up as a physical instructor. He majored in chemistry at Georgetown. Lieut. Mickey Cochrane has been a regimental commander at the Great Lakes Naval Station for the past few months. He's still training big league recruits.

After a comparatively close first half which found Biglerville out in front, 11-7, the Biglerville girls closed to send two players back to Nebraska before the contest, merely remarked: "All I can do is cooperate with the inevitable."

MAROONS QUELL TORNADO QUINT BY 52-26 SCORE

Outscoring their opponents by a two to one margin, the Gettysburg high cagers swung back into the race for the Southern Division title of the Southern Pennsylvania scholastic league here Friday evening by lacing Waynesboro 52-26 before a large crowd.

From start to finish the Maroons had everything their own way and it was only in the first few minutes of play that Waynesboro offered much opposition.

Coch Mel Dry used his varsity lineup sparingly, using an entire new team throughout the second quarter and for half of the final period.

McLaughlin Returns

One of the pleasing surprises of the evening was the first appearance of Pat McLaughlin in the lineup as a substitute center. McLaughlin, who suffered a fractured leg early in the football season, had been counted upon heavily this year by the Maroons and if Friday evening's performance can be any criterion he may prove of considerable value in remaining games. He moved around the floor in easy style and landed seven points for the evening.

Top scoring honors fell again to Bobby March who ripped the cords for 18 points. The Maroons played nice ball as a whole and found little difficulty in punctuating the Waynesboro defense.

Waynesboro drew first blood when Latshaw was fouled on the first play and landed a foul. A few seconds later Gorman netted a close shot and then the Tornado went ahead for the last time on a long chuck by Stenger. March made good on three charity throws in succession and followed with a goal and from then on it was all Gettysburg. At the close of the first period the Dry-men led 18-5.

Reserves Appear

An entire new Gettysburg team took the floor in the second period and used its height to advantage to outscore its rivals to put the locals out in front 29-12 at half time.

With the regulars back in action in the third period the Maroons hiked their total to 44 points mainly through 10 points by March. Stenger and Valentine netted goals for the visitors who trailed 44-23 at the quarter.

Gettysburg was content for the most part in polishing up on its passing in the last round with the reserves and regulars each playing for minutes.

Scrubs Triumph

Coach Rog Smith's jayvees took another game by winning the preliminary 33-23. After leading by a wide margin in the first half the Maroons fell apart in the third quarter to enable the Tornado to tie the count at 20-all at the close of the round but in the last period a trio of goals by Hershey and two by Raffensperger sewed up the decision.

Tuesday evening the Maroons will meet Carlisle of the Northern Division at Carlisle.

An Evening Thought

To what fortuitous occurrence do we not owe every pleasure and convenience of our lives.—Goldsmith.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

THE VOICE OF ENVY

We seldom have meat on our table.

We've given up coal for the grate.

We finish, as far as we're able,
Whatever is put on the plate.

We are serving the cause for duration,
Whenever, wherever we can.

But they can get steaks without ration.

They must know a black market man.

Don't think for a minute we'd tail-

We save up our points for a roast.

Than take from our boys who give battle.

We'd rather eat butterless toast.

But they don't let rationing fret them;

They've got some mysterious plan.

When they ask for lamb chops they get them!

They must know a black market man.

I hope you don't think we are jealous

Or trouble would cause, though

we could,

But we try to do as they tell us.

As all good Americans should.

We live to the rules and we eat less.

But ever since "pointing" began

They've not had a day that was meekless.

They must know a black market man.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THE DARK HOURS

When a diamond is taken in the rough it creates no special interest for one who doesn't know its rare possibility.

But when it has gone through the hands of the expert and its hard substance smoothed and cut into some exquisite design, it stands out as a thing of beauty and, in the words of Keats, "a joy forever!"

Much of life is a thing in the rough. It is clouded with discouragement, tragedy, disappointment, fear, and endless questionings. Dark Hours appear, when despair stalks bodily. It is at such a time, when the ebb of hope seems lowest, that our faith is challenged most.

Happily, however, it is at just such times that our courage rises highest, and we recognize that a higher power than anything that we possess is in control of us—the power of an Infinite God.

The Creator put fear into our hearts as a protective measure. No one ever faced danger without it. But because of this fear a greater element was created to counteract fear—the element of courage, and this supported by the power of faith—faith in oneself and faith in one's Creator. Thus it is that heroic tales color our daily reading, and the Dark Hours melt into the hours of Light.

It has often been stated that it is darkest just before Dawn. Thus, in human experience, the darkest hour is just before Faith takes its tightest grip upon the soul and says: "Victory is just ahead!"

There is nothing challenging in continual ease or comfort. Nothing but spiritual stagnation. We need the Dark Hours, the days of depression and gloom, to re-enforce our faith and reconciliation our hold on life and all its demands for service and usefulness.

I like that phrase "The Happy Warrior." It suggests willingness to bear one's burden and responsibility—to fight ahead, and to win. It suggests triumph over every one of the Dark Hours.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Art's Power."

TEN YEARS AGO

Dr. P. M. Bickle, 89, Dean Emeritus of College, Expires: Dr. Philip Melancthon Bickle, dean emeritus of Gettysburg college, where he taught for 50 years, died at his home, 149 West Lincoln avenue, Friday morning of pneumonia.

The venerable educator observed his eighty-ninth birthday anniversary December 1, 1933.

New Superintendent: George W. Naylor of the Riverton consolidated water company, Lemoine, has been named acting superintendent of the Gettysburg water company, succeeding H. James Welkert, who died on Tuesday.

Frank S. Weaver Relieved of Post: Harry J. Troxell, former treasurer of Adams county, today was appointed safety director of county civil works projects, succeeding Frank S. Weaver, of Hunters-town, former prohibition enforcement agent, who was appointed to the position on Saturday. Mr. Troxell began his new duties today.

S. S. W. Hammers Dies at Age of 82 Years: Samuel Solomon Washington Hammers, 82, familiarly known as "the sage of Hammer's Hall," died at his home in Highland township, Wednesday morning.

Supervisors Re-elect Knox as President: John Knox, Cumberland township, was re-elected president of the Adams county township supervisors' association at the sixteenth annual convention at the closing session Tuesday afternoon.

Other officers chosen include: William J. Asper, Huntington township, first vice president; Leo McKendrick, Franklin township, second vice president; P. A. T. Bower, Table Rock, secretary; G. Van Stitzel, Huntington township, treasurer. Samuel E. Allison, John Knox and Charles Weishaar were chosen delegates to the state convention.

Byrd Arrives at Little America—Little America (Via Mackay Radio), Jan. 18 (AP)—Admiral Richard E. Byrd and his Antarctic expedition arrived here at 12:30 a. m. E. S. T. today.

E. P. Hammaker Is Honored by Pa. Craftsmen: With the election of officers late Wednesday afternoon, the twenty-sixth annual convention of Memorial Craftsmen of Pennsylvania was brought to a close at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Ernest P. Hammaker, Gettysburg, was named chairman of the organization.

Leighton C. Taylor Admitted to Bar of U. S. Supreme Court: Leighton C. Taylor, attorney-at-law, of Bendersville and Washington, on Friday was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of the United States, the highest court in the land, attaining the highest achievement obtainable in the legal profession of this country.

The admission of Mr. Taylor was sponsored by the senior United States senator from Pennsylvania, David A. Reed.

Closing Out Business: Harry Viener has announced that he is going out of business. Mr. Viener, who reports that he has been in business in Gettysburg for 15 years, gives no reason for the closing out of the business.

Married in York: Miss Mary E. Wetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Wetzel, and Clarence A. Hankey, son of Mr. Clara S. Hankey, both of Hamilton township, were married by the Rev. G. E. Miller, a Lutheran minister, in York, Saturday afternoon.

Wed at Mission: Miss Martha M. Hall and Eugene Kimple, both of Buchanan Valley, were married last Friday at the old Jesuit Mission church by the Rev. Fr. Will W. Whalen. Charles Hall and Miss Gertrude Kimple were the attendants. The couple will reside in the Valley.

League to Give Birthday Gift to Roosevelt: Out of the proceeds from the play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," to be given here January 30, by the Campus club for the local chapter of the Gettysburg College Woman's league, a birthday gift will be presented to President Roosevelt for the benefit of the Warm Springs, Georgia, foundation.

The cast as announced by Richard A. Arms, director, includes Mrs. E. O. von Schwerdtner, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, Miss Elizabeth VanCleve, Mrs. George R. Hedge, Captain George R. Hedge, Mrs. G. R. Larkin, Mrs. John W. Ostrom, Edward S. Frey, Dr. Francis S. Mason, Professor G. R. Larkin and Professor E. O. von Schwerdtner.

Personal: John D. Keith, Esq., and Dr. J. McCrea Dickson attended the annual dinner of the Alfalfa club in Washington, D. C., Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Butt and nephew, Robert Butt, of Bridgeport, Connecticut, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Butt, Seminary street.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Now that monkeys can be taught new tricks there's hope for road hogs.

I am indebted to a woman reader for passing along to me details of a situation which resulted in great difficulty starting her car. Because the car was stored in an unheated garage most service men leaned to the usual causes of starting delay, but it was not until the engine failed on the open road that a mechanic discovered a bad leak in the fuel pump. This had been caused by the pump striking a base plate which was too near it. The pump is attached to the engine which shakes when idling, due to its flexible mounting!

The Rear Engine Riddle

What seems to be the true story as to why we haven't rear-engined cars has been coming out of engineering circles lately. It has, so the stories go, nothing to do with the problem of cooling or mechanical complexities but is wholly concerned with safety of the driver and his passengers. In event of a collision at road speed—the rear-mounted engine tends to break loose from its mooring and go straight through the car. When a conventional car hits a telegraph pole the engine wants to go through the radiator but the pole exerts a useful counter-thrust.

In tests cars with rear engines were run into stone walls after their drivers had escaped to accompany ing cars. In spite of the most rigid frames and bodies there still is the forward travel of the loosened engine. It would be fatal to anyone trapped in its path.

The idea of putting alcohol in the gas tank in order to prevent water from freezing in very cold weather is one that has been adopted by many motorists, but it has its limitations. Alcohol accelerates rust, so if you are going to use it at all you should also put into the tank a little emulsifying oil, more popularly termed rust inhibitor. Of course the best plan is to open the tank's drain and let escape whatever water and sediment has collected there. And whether you start with a clean or a dirty tank always aim to keep the tank filled at all times since a full tank will not permit as much condensation.

Before You Retard

You're probably right that the increased pumping of the engine is due to lower octane gasoline, but before you rush to have the ignition timing set back have your service man check for possible faulty distributor operation and undesirable spark plug conditions. Engine cooling is also vital in fighting off the "ping", so check the fan belt, and make sure that the radiator core is clean.

Gasoline is volatile enough to give you a normal start in winter, if the choke mechanism works properly and cranking speed is high, but there will be a longer period for the engine to warm up. Be sure the manifold heat control is on the job.

Quite the most effective way to save the battery in cold weather is to take advantage of every opportunity to start without help of the starter-motor. It is surprising how little incline is needed to get a car rolling. I have found a fairly level driveway sufficient to roll the car to a speed where it will crank the engine when the car is in gear and the clutch engaged. For this purpose use high gear as a lower gearing may offer too much compression braking.

Where They Went Wrong

Some drivers have all the bad luck it seems when it comes to trying to start without using the starter. Here are a few of their mistakes:

One fellow tries to start with a cold engine without first pumping two or three times on the accelerator to make the carburetor acceleration pump shoot raw gasoline into the carburetor throat. Another was so cautious when engaging the clutch that he slipped it, thus preventing the car from transferring full turning effect to the engine. A third thought the engine had not started, switched it off and then went back to the customary way of cranking. Had he taken a glance at the instruments ahead of him he would have known that the engine did start.

According to service men the best way to meet the increasing problem of engine "ping" is to cut down on acceleration. This need be no more than a matter of altering our driving habit of rushing through the gears. Whatever we can do by way of driving changes will, they maintain, be more efficient as a ping check than retarding ignition timing. When we spare acceleration we save several ways. Less gas being consumed. Less tires tread wear.

Less strain on the engine.

Three To Remember

You may recognize that good braking is not possible without the brake shoes being concentric with their drums, yet your failure to enjoy satisfactory deceleration may be due to the drums not being concentric with the wheel hub.

Rust inhibitor not only checks oxidation of metal parts of the cooling system because of their exposure to water and air but also serves as a safeguard against what is known as electrolytic corrosion. This occurs where dissimilar metals are used.

Falling heat from the car's hot water heater often is a tip-off that the engine's thermostat isn't working.

Maybe you are careful not to ride with your left foot poised on the clutch pedal. Maybe you never slip the clutch to help the car over a "hump" in lieu of shifting to a lower gear. Maybe you are careful to declutch when braking the car down to ten miles an hour or lower.

But in spite of your efforts to save the clutch you may be one of many drivers who habitually abuse the clutch facings by the simple mistake of engaging the clutch too gingerly. You are always fearful that you will tear gas you slip the clutch, heat up the clutch and invite exactly the sort of damage you are trying to avoid. If you have any suspicion of this, therefore, take note of it immediately and try to reduce the degree of easing in of the clutch with due consideration, however, for the need of avoiding too harsh engagement or spinning of the wheels.

What's On Your Mind?

Q. I bought what seems to be a good used car, but have been troubled with stickage in the gear shift. I am afraid that some day the gears will stick in low and I won't be able to shift at all. Lube in the transmission has been checked. H. N. L.

A. The gear shift on your car is on the way to sticking. This is due to trouble with the bronze bushing for the shift column in the steering post. It should be replaced with a steel bushing.

Q. The engine of my car has an annoying habit of skipping badly after warming up. I can usually check this by accelerating several times.

A. Apparently the choke valve sticks or the automatic control of the choke is sluggish. At any rate the engine is choked too long, skipping in this case being due to an over-rich mixture. When you speed up the engine you disturb conditions in the intake and that is sufficient to stir the choke into release. Better have this checked over before the choke condition gets worse.

Q. Since having brakes relined there has been a distinct pull to the right when slowing down. I did not know this was possible with hydraulic brakes. (Please Turn to Page 5)

WHAT THE TIRE SHORTAGE MEANS

To Truck Operators:

In order to keep rolling, tires need constant care, trucks cannot be overloaded or unbalanced. To keep operating, tires must be checked regularly. As replacements are not being manufactured in large enough quantities, repairing and recapping must be done at the proper time in order to save every valuable casing.

We seldom have meat on our table.
We've given up coal for the grate.
We finish, as far as we're able,
Whatever is put on the plate.
We are serving the cause for duration,
Whenever, wherever we can,
But they can get steaks without ration.
They must know a black market man.

Don't think for a minute we'd tattle!
We save up our points for a roast.
Than take from our boys who give battle,
We'd rather eat butterless toast.
But they don't let rationing fret them;
They've got some mysterious plan.
When they ask for lamb chops they get them!
They must know a black market man.

I hope you don't think we are jealous
Or trouble would cause, though we could,
But we try to do as they tell us,
As all good Americans should.
We live to the rules and we eat lean,
But ever since "pointing" began
They've not had a day that was meatless.
They must know a black market man.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams
THE DARK HOURS

When a diamond is taken in the rough it creates no special interest for one who doesn't know its rare possibility.

But when it has gone through the hands of the expert and its hard substance smoothed and cut into some exquisite design, it stands out as a thing of beauty and, in the words of Keats, "a joy forever!"

Much of life is a thing in the rough. It is clouded with discouragement, tragedy, disappointment, fear, and endless questionings. Dark Hours appear, when despair stalks boldly. It is at such a time, when the ebb of hope seems lowest, that our faith is challenged most. Happily, however, it is at just such times that our courage rises highest, and we recognize that a higher power than anything that we possess is in control of us—the power of an Infinite God.

The Creator put fear into our hearts as a protective measure. No one ever faced danger without it. But because of this fear a greater element was created to counteract fear—the element of courage, and this supported by the power of faith—faith in oneself and faith in one's Creator. Thus it is that heroic tales color our daily reading, and the Dark Hours melt into the hours of Light.

It has often been stated that it is darkest just before dawn. Thus, in human experience, the darkest hour is just before Faith takes its tightest grip upon the soul and says: "Victory is just ahead!"

There is nothing challenging in continual ease or comfort. Nothing but spiritual stagnation. We need the Dark Hours, the days of depression and gloom, to re-enforce our faith and recondition our hold on life and all its demands for service and usefulness.

I like that phrase "The Happy Warrior." It suggests willingness to bear one's burden and responsibility—to fight ahead, and to win. It suggests triumph over every one of the Dark Hours.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Art's Power."

Now that monkeys can be taught new tricks there's hope for road hogs.

I am indebted to a woman reader for passing along to me details of a situation which resulted in great difficulty starting her car. Because the car was stored in an unheated garage most service men leaned to the usual causes of starting delay, but it was not until the engine failed on the open road that a mechanic discovered a bad leak in the fuel pump. This had been caused by the pump striking a bae plate which was too near it. The pump is attached to the engine which shakes when idling, due to its flexible mounting!

Garbage Collectors' Strike In Ninth Day

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 (AP)—Citizens fumed and fretted, garbage piles grew taller and smellier, a private collector reported he had been assaulted, and tension mounted generally as the strike of 200 city refuse workers went into its ninth day today.

Milton Jackson, 56, negro, told police he had been attacked by "15 men" while he was collecting rubbish. At Passavant hospital he was treated for an injured hip. City police arrested John Clark, 38, also negro, a city refuse collector, on a charge of assault.

City Incinerator Superintendent John T. Stabile said he had stopped the burning of privately-collected garbage at the incinerator to prevent "picketing and violence."

City council will meet Monday to decide on a plan to turn the entire refuse system over to a private company.

Governor Scores Maverick Charges

Harrisburg, Jan. 22 (AP)—Answering criticism of Pennsylvania's penal system by Maurey Maverick, vice chairman of the War Production Board, Governor Martin declared in a statement yesterday:

"I am much more concerned about the living conditions and the opportunities of the carpenters, the plumber, the newspaper reporter, the miner and the farmer of Pennsylvania than I am about the living conditions of persons in prisons."

Maverick told the Pennsylvania Prison Society Thursday night Pennsylvania's prisons were obsolete and should be replaced.

URGES USE OF STATE SCHOOL FOR PATIENTS

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—Operation of the Huntingdon Industrial school as an institution for defective delinquents by the commonwealth was proposed today by Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, Berks county common pleas court, at a conference here on juvenile delinquency.

The plan was offered in a resolution during a discussion of delinquency problems called by the Pennsylvania Bar Association's committee to cooperate with Pennsylvania medical groups. Four other medical and legal groups were represented.

The proposed resolution urged Governor Martin and the state department of welfare to prepare and equip Huntingdon "for the reception, care, maintenance, detention and employment of defective delinquents who have been convicted of crime or who have been adjudged delinquent by a juvenile court."

The proposal also asked that a separate department be maintained at the institution for mentally defective children from 12 to 15 years after asserting there does not now exist "adequate institutions for children of criminal tendency under 15."

Another proposal submitted by Judge Schaeffer suggested enlargement of the children's department of the Allentown State hospital "so that it may be able to accept for observation, study, treatment and training all children who are not mentally defective, but who are suspected of being mentally ill."

Dr. Paul Holmer, director of the Berks County Guidance Institute, urged the state authorize and encourage, financial aid if necessary, establishment of small psychiatric homes in counties where mental cases can be studied.

Also on the conference program were Ralph C. Bussler, Jr., Philadelphia, and Dr. Philip Q. Roche, of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

Organizations cooperating with the bar association committee, headed by Mr. Vashni Burr, deputy attorney general, are the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Psychiatric society, the joint medical-legal commission of the Philadelphia Medical Society and the Philadelphia Bar Association, and the Pittsburgh Neuro-Psychiatric society.

Curb Must Stand On Milk Sales

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Civilian milk consumption must be held at present levels or quota restrictions now in effect in 112 areas will be extended to other localities, the Office of War Information said today in a report on the National Milk and Cream Supply situation.

Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, indicate that milk production during 1944 will decline to 116,000,000 pounds, 6,000,000 pounds under the War Food Administration goal of 122,000,000 pounds, the OWI said.

The WFA said farmers would have to increase their dairy herds by two per cent in the year, and increase production per cow by 50 pounds, to attain the production goal.

The survey said the 1944 milk output depends entirely on the cattle feed situation. The total feed supply is large, but the number of animals dependent on it is even larger, the OWI found. Maldistribution of feed, with serious local shortages in prospect, could adversely affect milk production.

The quota restrictions now in effect in 112 areas limit fluid milk deliveries to the June, 1943 levels.

Louis XIV spent more than $40,000,000 on the royal gardens at Versailles.

East Berlin

East Berlin—C. Richard Emig, Camp Reynolds, has been on furlough this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emig.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Philips have learned that their son, Russell, has returned to his home, Pocomoke City, Maryland, after being a medical patient at the Philadelphia General hospital.

Miss Helen E. Sinner, who has been suffering with a spinal injury, the result of a fall, is now confined to bed.

Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shultz R. 3, has been ill at her home with a heart condition.

These officers have been elected by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Liberty Fire company: President, Mrs. Oran Alland; vice president, Mrs. Carl Pitkeer; secretary, Miss M. Grace Stambaugh, assisted by Miss Julia G. Glafelter, and treasurer, Mrs. Paul G. Jacobs, assisted by Mrs. Melvin Winand. The Auxiliary will hold a covered dish social at their next meeting February 7.

Mrs. Ray Miller, who has been residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Eisenhower, is now in Gadsden, Alabama, where her husband is with the Army.

Miss Ruth A. Deatrick, teacher at Hartman's school, reports that her 20 pupils have collected 1,005 pounds of waste paper for the war effort.

Pfc. Charles Spangler, stationed in Arkansas, has been on furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dewey Spangler, where his wife and infant son, Ronald, are now residing.

A Sunday school group from Hanover conducted a banquet Tuesday evening at the Zwingli Reformed church annex. The meal was prepared and served by the Zwingli Mite society.

Mrs. Richard O. Riggs and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Merl R. Selter, spent Monday in York. Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riggs were his mother, Mrs. Lawson B. Riggs, Brookville, Md., and his brother, Francis, on furlough from the Air Corps.

A roller skating party at a Hanover rink took place this week, sponsored by the junior class of the local high school.

Mrs. Lizzie Hull had as recent guests her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grove and son, Byron Lee, York.

Mrs. John Alland, near York, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Chronister, during the week.

FRANCE: An Age-Old Battleground

(By The Associated Press)

The history of France—Europe's natural battleground—has been written in the blood of battles stretching back beyond the dawn of civilization.

The Gauls were the first known conquerors in the age-old battle of France. Then came the Romans in 54 B. C., following the avenue of the Rhone.

Four centuries later the Visigoths, Burgundians and Franks overran France. Norsemen repeatedly invaded from the north.

Even the Arabs, from the south, once occupied parts of southern France.

In the One Hundred Years War, the British ravaged the channel coast and the northern provinces and took Paris. English and Spanish invaded repeatedly in the Sixteenth century while the country was rent by civil and religious wars.

A Spanish army laid siege to Dunkerque in 1652. In 1792-93, an alliance which included Prussia crossed the northern frontier.

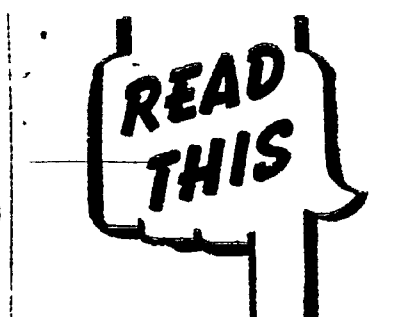

Even Napoleon could not keep out the invader, for eventually he was pressed back by the English, Russians and Germans to Paris, which was abandoned.

Paris once more echoed to the tramp of conquerors in the War of 1870, when Bismarck dictated at Versailles the terms of a peace that cost France Alsace and one-fifth of Lorraine.

Germany took the highway to Paris again in World War I, but did not quite reach the capital. In World War II Germany was more successful. Her armies swept into Paris and France collapsed.

Charge Stalin Can Be World Dictator

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Bipartisan backers of United States participation in postwar rehabilitation sought Friday to puncture a claim that it would help Stalin become dictator of Europe.

A resolution authorizing this country to participate in the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration to the extent of $1,350,000,000 met stiff opposition in its first appearance on the House floor.

The Stalin dictatorship cry was raised by Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill.), who argued Thursday that the Red leader would gain control of most of the liberated countries by exercising control over relief supplies.

Rep. Fish (R-N.Y.), ranking minority member of the Rules committee, said amendments would be offered to lower the proposed financial ceiling for this country's participation to $675,000,000, to prevent the funds from being used for educational purposes; to insure aid for the needy of India, to provide that 90 per cent of the United States' contribution be used in buying supplies in this country, and to provide that all funds expended by UNRRA be for relief work only, and none for rehabilitation.

SEEK MEASURES TO SAVE LAND AFTER MINING

Harrisburg, Jan. 22 (AP)—Legislative action to halt "destruction of land" by strip mining is advocated by the Pennsylvania Association of County Commissioners.

John N. O'Neil, chairman of the association's legislative committee, said today in an interview that:

"We feel that the legislature—if nothing else—should take appropriate steps to assure the leveling off and restoration of land for use again after it has been gouged by the mine strippers' machinery."

O'Neil who met here yesterday with association officials and members of the executive and legislative committees, said strip mining "destroys land and leaves it valueless for both taxing and producing purposes."

He said he would make the recommendation to a legislative committee which is studying strip mining problem. The committee will hear interested persons to receive data at a meeting here next month.

URGES USE OF STATE SCHOOL FOR PATIENTS

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)

Operation of the Huntingdon Industrial school as an institution for defective delinquents by the commonwealth was proposed today by Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, Berks county common pleas court, at a conference here on juvenile delinquency.

The plan was offered in a resolution during a discussion of delinquency problems called by the Pennsylvania Bar Association's committee to cooperate with Pennsylvania medical groups. Four other medical and legal groups were represented.

The proposed resolution urged Governor Martin and the state department of welfare to prepare and equip Huntingdon "for the reception, care, maintenance, detention and employment of defective delinquents who have been convicted of crime or who have been adjudged delinquent by a juvenile court."

The proposal also asked that a separate department be maintained at the institution for mentally defective children from 12 to 15 years after asserting there does not now exist "adequate institutions for children of criminal tendency under 15."

Another proposal submitted by Judge Schaeffer suggested enlargement of the children's department of the Allentown State hospital "so that it may be able to accept for observation, study, treatment and training all children who are not mentally defective, but who are suspected of being mentally ill."

Dr. Paul Holmer, director of the Berks County Guidance Institute, urged the state authorize and encourage, financial aid if necessary, establishment of small psychiatric homes in counties where mental cases can be studied.

Also on the conference program were Ralph C. Buser, Jr., Philadelphia, and Dr. Philip Q. Roche, of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania. Organizations cooperating with the bar association committee, headed by M. Vashit Burr, deputy attorney general, are the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Psychiatric society, the joint medical-legal commission of the Philadelphia Medical Society and the Philadelphia Bar Association, and the Pittsburgh Neuro-Psychiatric society.

Curb Must Stand On Milk Sales

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Civilian milk consumption must be held at present levels or quota restrictions now in effect in 112 areas will be extended to other localities, the Office of War Information said today in a report on the National Milk and Cream Supply situation.

Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, indicate that milk production during 1944 will decline to 116,000,000,000 pounds, 6,000,000,000 pounds under the War Food Administration goal of 122,000,000,000 pounds, the OWI said.

The WFA said farmers would have to increase their dairy herds by two per cent in the year, and increase production per cow by 50 pounds, to attain the production goal.

The survey said the 1944 milk output depends entirely on the cattle feed situation. The total feed supply is large, but the number of animals dependent on it is even larger, the OWI found. Maldistribution of feed, with serious local shortages in prospect, could adversely affect milk production.

The quota restrictions now in effect in 112 areas limit fluid milk deliveries to the June, 1943 levels.

FRANCE: An Age-Old Battleground

(By The Associated Press)

The history of France—Europe's natural battleground—has been written in the blood of battles stretching back beyond the dawn of civilization.

The Gauls were the first known conquerors in the age-old battle of France. Then came the Romans in 154 B. C., following the avenue of the Rhone.

Four centuries later the Visigoths, Burgundians and Franks overran France. Norsemen repeatedly invaded from the north.

Even the Arabs, from the south, once occupied parts of southern France.

In the One Hundred Years War, the British ravaged the channel coast and the north. English and Spanish invaded repeatedly in the Sixteenth century while the country was rent by civil and religious wars.

A Spanish army laid siege to Dunkerque in 1652. In 1792-93, an alliance which included Prussia crossed the northern frontier.

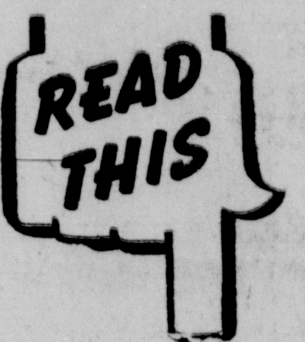

Even Napoleon could not keep out the invader, for eventually he was pressed back by the English, Russians and Germans to Paris, which was abandoned.

Paris once more echoed to the tramp of conquerors in the War of 1870, when Bismarck dictated at Versailles the terms of a peace that cost France Alsace and one-fifth of Lorraine.

Germany took the highway to Paris again in World War I, but did not quite reach the capital. In World War II Germany was more successful. Her armies swept into Paris and France collapsed.

KILLED BY CAR

SEEK MEASURES TO SAVE LAND AFTER MINING

Harrisburg, Jan. 22 (AP)—Legislative action to halt "destruction of land" by strip mining is advocated by the Pennsylvania Association of County Commissioners.

John N. O'Neill, chairman of the association's legislative committee, said today in an interview that:

"We feel that the legislature—if nothing else—should take appropriate steps to assure the leveling off and restoration of land for use again after it has been gouged by the mine strippers' machinery."

O'Neill who met here yesterday with association officials and members of the executive and legislative committees, said strip mining "destroys land and leaves it valueless for both taxing and producing purposes."

He said he would make the recommendation to a legislative committee which is studying strip mining problem. The committee will hear interested persons to receive data at a meeting here next month.

Ask Quick Action

The county commissioners recommended quick action by both federal and state governments on the problem.

Charge Stalin Can Be World Dictator

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Bipartisan backers of United States participation in postwar rehabilitation sought Friday to puncture a claim that it would help Stalin become dictator of Europe.

A resolution authorizing this country to participate in the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration to the extent of $1,350,000,000 met stiff opposition in its first appearance on the House floor.

The Stalin dictatorship cry was raised by Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill.), who argued Thursday that the Red leader would gain control of most of the liberated countries by exercising control over relief supplies.

Rep. Fish (R-N.Y.), ranking minority member of the Rules committee, said amendments would be offered to lower the proposed financial ceiling for this country's participation to $675,000,000, to prevent the funds from being used for educational purposes; to insure aid for the needy of India, to provide that 90 per cent of the United States' contribution be used in buying supplies in this country, and to provide that all funds expended by UNRRA be for relief work only, and none for rehabilitation.

This week, with the eyes of the world upon us, THE FOURTH WAR LOAN WAS LAUNCHED!

LAST TUESDAY, America's 4th War Loan Drive Started.

It is the largest of all war loans in terms of individual participation—in the amount you must dig down for.

And—it is, perhaps, the most important of all War Loans. For it comes at a time when the eyes of all the world are upon us; the eyes of our friends, the eyes of our enemies, the eyes of our own fighting men.

We have just entered the crucial year of the war, a year of destiny, a year that promises to decide how good or bad a world we'll have to live in all the rest of our lives. And the world is wondering how deeply we mean it when we promise our men we'll back their attack, and when we promise our Allies we'll stick with them not only through the winning of the war but through the winning of the peace as well.

The Fourth War Loan is the home front's first big test of this new and vital year. It will take unity and determination of will of all the people to make the Loan succeed.

The need for this and other War Loans should be clear to every American. This war is the costliest effort ever undertaken by any country. It costs 250 million dollars each day. This is just the cost of the war, in addition to the regular, inescapable cost of running a great and huge country. Taxes can't take care of all this outgo. Neither can government borrowing from insurance companies, savings banks, corporations, and other large investors. It is necessary to turn to the people, their weekly wages, their savings accounts, the money tucked away in pantry sugar bowls, in socks, under mattresses.

This is as it should be. In a democracy, war is the business of all the people. Some must fight, some must work and put up the money.

It's the only way to raise the money. It's also the right way to raise the money. It gives you a good place to invest the extra money you have today. It's a curb on inflation, on that dangerous bulk of pocket money that leads to black markets and disastrous spending. It's a mattress for tomorrow, a sort of individually planned Social Security that will bring in welcome money in the years ahead when income might not be the Mississippi flood it is today.

These last are not the reasons for the Loans.

They are extra reasons, however, over and above the $1 interest you get on every $3 you invest. The fundamental reason for the Fourth War Loan is that your beloved America, at war and in danger, needs your help!

Every one who has a job or savings, should invest at least $100—if possible, $200, $300, or $500 extra. Some 5,000,000 Americans, volunteers, will be working to sell these Bonds. One of these volunteers will ask you to buy, where you work, at your home, or some other place. If by some chance, you're missed, find out where to buy and buy on your own.

The place where you work will have a quota. That's where you should make your major investment. That's where your personal quota really counts.

But...

The place you live also has a quota. Try to invest there, too. Other people will ask you. Salespeople, in retail stores, have volunteered to help and have an individual quota. If they ask you to buy, try to buy from them, too. Movie theaters, restaurants, schools, banks, postoffices, and many other places also will be selling bonds.

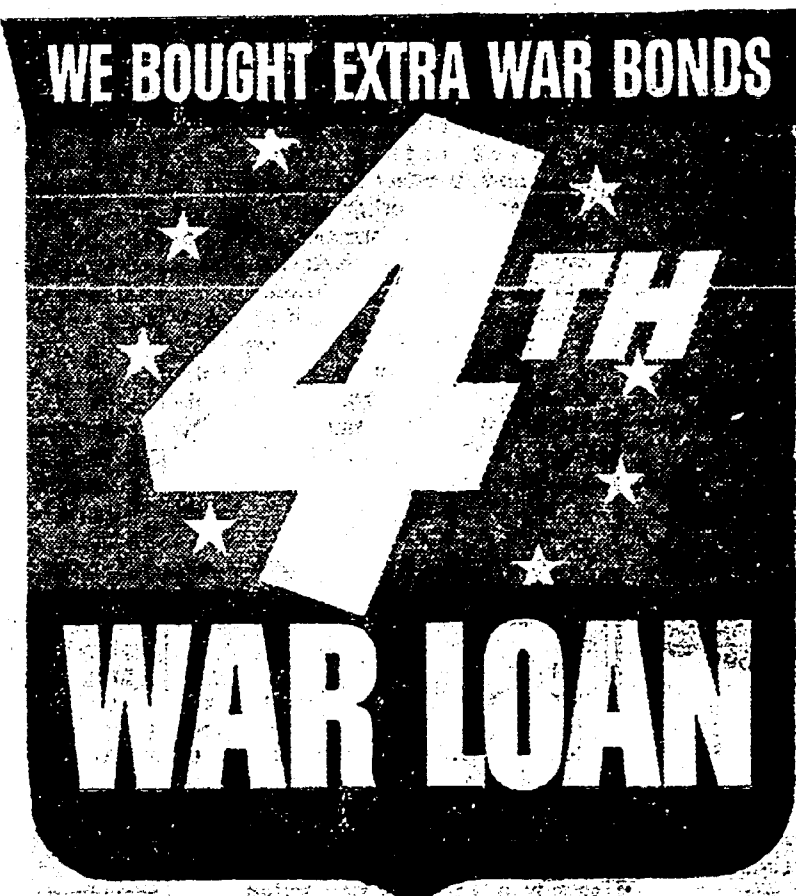

The Fourth Loan is a test of us as a nation.

The eyes of our fighting men are upon us to see if we are backing them.

... The eyes of our Allies are upon us to see if we are with them.

... The eyes of our enemies are upon us to see if we are soft enough to fall for a non-victorious, here-today-gone-tomorrow peace...

Are we? The answer is in your pocket!

employed in today's new invasion of central Italy. The current operation, however, differs in that it is coupled with an overland drive in the Liri valley.

The object of the present operations in Italy, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced Monday, has one primary objective—to take Rome.

The force which seized the beachhead was American and British. Smashing at the Germans on the land front are American, British and French troops.

The attack was planned by Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, who commands the central Mediterranean forces, as the armies in Italy are now called. Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark commands the Fifth Army under him.

"The regular communique issued after the special announcement, said that French troops converging on Cassino had seized an important height, while American troops crossed the Rapido river.

what happened. I cursed them and told them they were rotten shots or they would finish me off. The afternoon wore on. Major Fissell and other Marines tried to get to me. I called to them to give up. I was right near where some Japs had been killed and their bodies gave off a terrible odor.

"Prayed I'd Die"
Several Japs tried to get to me and the Marine shot them. They fell almost on top of me, and I kicked them with my good foot every time I tried to move.

"Before dawn I had entirely given up and prayed I'd die. Then I'd get sore and curse the Japs in every way I knew. They'd fire at me. I told them I was dying but they could not get their fire on me."

When the Marines finally broke through to Sergeant Brown, they had given him up as dead. They found him, however, still alive although very weak. He retained consciousness all through the ordeal.

LEAGUE PREXY SCORES SPORT CREPE - HANGERS

By JACK HAND

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—Lashing out at crepe-hangers who foresee a gloomy 1944 for the higher class minor baseball circuits, President Frank Shaughnessy of the International league said today that his clubs were in better shape than last year and nothing but a direct order from the government will stop them.

"Nobody has any right to make predictions at this time," Shaughnessy pointed out, "but I figure that we will have sufficient players to handle the situation. The majors plan to go and so do we. We have signed several men. Some are 4-P's and some are pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. They aren't going to take all of them, that's certain. If the majors can run, so can we."

Yesterday Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers expressed grave fears that the International, American association and Pacific Coast leagues would have to shut their gates due to the player shortage.

Harriet Brampton was telephoning from her chaise longue. The low, rich tones of her voice were as dominant as her erect shoulders. She smiled at Julie as she came in. She dropped the receiver and rang for a servant.

"I have never seen such incompetence," she complained to Julie, "such absolute impudence. I'll have a collapse by the time this party's over. And your dress—!"

Julie stood flickering the peacock pattern of the glazed chintz chaise longue with her riding crop. Her eyes looked like the drenched petals of black panisles.

"You should see Main Street," she said. "All the flags are up. And there's a whopping sign strung between the bank and Miller's—'Welcome Dave!'"

Her mother's gaze moved in absent satisfaction from the high shining coils of black hair on Julie's small head down over the fine, slim tailoring of the white riding habit. She said, "That's the trouble. Because a boy gets a war decoration he must be a town figure. David will hate crowds of people swarming about. We could have had such a lovely affair with just the people he wanted to see."

Her call came through. Her voice went on into the telephone, now purring with approbation now sharp with demand. All the last minute readjustments necessary to entertainment on lavish scale.

The maid came in and waited respectfully. Harriet Brampton finished her call and smiled at her.

"Tell James as soon as he can leave the ballroom, he's to drive into Chicago and pick up Julie's dress. They won't be able to deliver it."

The maid cleared her throat anxiously. "James said we've used our gas ration book all up, mo'am."

Harriet Brampton gave a low scream of exasperation. "You see?" she cried to Julie. "That's how it is every way I turn. Never in all my life—!"

She called the Mayor.

"I have to have more gas! Don't say I can't because I have to have it! And you can tell the ration board if I'm going to entertain the whole town tonight—which wasn't my idea in the first place..."

The maid listened with grudging admiration. Her gaze moved from Harriet Brampton's dark head up to Julie's. She thought, "They're dead alike the two of 'em. Miss Julie's sweet now but that pretty head of hers is set on just like her mother's. Not a thought in their heads but the world's made for 'em to rule."

"You can tell James to fill the tank at the station," Harriet Brampton's eyes shattered the maid's day-dreaming.

Julie broke in before her mother could start another call.

"I'm going to marry Dave. Mother."

Mrs. Brampton's slender hand dropped the receiver. She gave Julie a startled glance. "When did you decide that?"

"On the way back from town," Julie's voice rushed on, warm cascading eagerness. "I can go around wherever he's stationed when he's in the country and..."

"Julie!" Shock and rebuke mingled in her mother's cry.

"There's nothing so terrible about it, Mother. Girls marry officers every day and go with them."

Harriet Brampton let out her caught breath in a scornful ripple of mirth. "Like Ella Daniels and her navy coxswain?"

"A lieutenant in the air corps isn't a navy coxswain."

"The principle is the same."

But Julie, the impulsive and tractable—was stubborn. Slow puckers formed and deepened in the smooth white line of her brow.

"It's been ghastly, she wailed. "No men—nothing to do—just ride and play golf and ride some more. Anything would be better than sitting around here!"

"Not trooping over the country like a shopgirl," Harriet retorted firmly. "This wasn't David's idea, was it?"

"No. We've never discussed marriage. He scarcely has time to write me anyway. But—" Her head tilted again in faint show of defiant pride, "he told me he loved me before he enlisted."

Harriet relaxed. "I like David," she said gently. "He's a charming boy and his family is excellent. After the war—"

The riding crop in Julie's small hand lashed out at the peacock chintz savagely. "Five years maybe! I'll be tottering by then—or balmy. Or both. In five years I won't care if I ever have any fun again. No! I'm marrying David tomorrow and going with him."

There was violence in the determination. Harriet tried humor, cajolery, pity, anger. Finally she tried hysterics. Later she went to Julie's room.

On the threshold she stopped.

The canopied bed, the deep, soft, chairs, held piles of clothes. Julie was packing dozen initialed handbags, determination in every rapid movement of her slim young body.

For the first time in her life she had slashed with her mother and won. Out of the miracle had come a strange contact of power—a feeling of the strength of that spirit she inherited along with the Brampton beauty.

Harriet Brampton felt both eased and aged as she faced the realization. When she spoke a kind of bitter humor took the place of her usual undertone of authority.

"If you're following the army dear, I'm afraid three bags will be your limit."

"You can tell James to fill the tank at the station," Harriet Brampton's eyes shattered the maid's day-dreaming.

Julie broke in before her mother could start another call.

"I'm going to marry Dave. Mother."

Mrs. Brampton's slender hand dropped the receiver. She gave Julie a startled glance. "When did you decide that?"

"On the way back from town," Julie's voice rushed on, warm cascading eagerness. "I can go around wherever he's stationed when he's in the country and..."

Chapter 1

Dave's coming! Dave's coming! The treads of the station wagon sang the gay roundelay on the sunlit road as Julie expertly slid around the last sharp turns and swung in through high iron gates. Up the curving arc of the drive to a skidding stop beneath the great portico.

She ran in through the ballroom. Servants were nailing flowering spring branches over the arches, waxing the floor. She ran up the winding staircase to her mother's morning room.

Harriet Brampton was telephoning from her chaise longue. The low, rich tones of her voice were as dominant as her erect shoulders. She smiled at Julie as she came in. She dropped the receiver and rang for a servant.

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—The three notes of the NBC chimes—G. E. and C.—have now acquired a voice and have joined the fourth war loan campaign. They say: "Buy War Bonds."

The chimes, which signal time for station breaks on the network, have "learned" to talk or rather sing, with the aid of the three notes struck on an organ, a feminine voice and a device known as a Sonovox. The engineer describes the effect as "voice modulated tones." It is this same equipment which makes trains, musical instruments or other gadgets talk, and has come into wide use for radio sound effect purposes.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
Frank Sinatra fans will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing their favorite crooner Monday and Tuesday when "Higher and Higher," a musical comedy, plays at the Majestic theatre. Sinatra sings several numbers and is said to give a fine acting performance. The plot centers in the transformation of a scullery maid into a debutante with the connivance of the household staff and of the penniless but willing master of the mansion.

In addition to Sinatra the cast includes Michele Morgan, Jack Haley, Leon Errol, Victor Borge, Paul and Grace Hartman.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY
Director Irving Pichel adds still another triumph to his list of hits with the 20th Century-Fox picture of MacKinlay Kantor's "Happy Land," which is scheduled to open Wednesday at the Majestic Theatre.

Featured in the absorbing drama, which was produced by Kenneth Macgowan, are Don Ameche, Frances Dee, Harry Carey and Ann Rutherford, with Cara Williams, Richard Crane, Henry Morgan, Minor Witson and Dickie Moore also included in the cast.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Gene Kelly gives his sweetheart, Kathryn Grayson, his ring in "Thousands Cheer."

A drama packed musical which offers everything from symphonies to circuses is M-G-M's "Thousands Cheer," lively Technicolor tune-fest spotlighting Gene Kelly and Kathryn Grayson, John Boles, Mary Astor and Jose Iturbi. The film comes to the Majestic Theatre Friday.

Lively production numbers, skits featuring Judy Garland, Eleanor Powell, Red Skelton, Mickey Rooney, Virginia O'Brien, Ann Sothern, Lucille Ball and many others appear as guest stars highlight the story of an army colonel's daughter who falls in love with a private in the ranks.

As the officer's dazzling daughter, lovely Kathryn Grayson turns in the most important performance of her screen career.

WE BOUGHT EXTRA WAR BONDS

4th WAR LOAN

4th War Loan Bond Drive Opens

ON JANUARY 18TH, THE FOURTH WAR LOAN BOND DRIVE WAS OPENED AND IN ADDITION TO THE SERIES E, F, AND G BONDS WHICH ARE ALWAYS AVAILABLE, THE FOLLOWING BONDS ARE BEING OFFERED FOR SALE TO THE PUBLIC:

2 1/2% Bonds due 1970, callable in 1965
2 1/4% Bonds due 1959, callable in 1956
7/8% Certificates of Indebtedness Series C Tax Notes

Adams County's Quota has been fixed at $2,047,600. Of this amount, individuals are asked to buy $884,563 or approximately 44%. The balance of $1,163,037 is to be absorbed by corporations, trust funds, public funds, etc. Please note that the quota for individuals is higher than ever before and that the Government desires that the purchase of E bonds be proportionately increased.

If we are to reach the goal set for us and maintain Adams County's fine record for bond sales, the utmost cooperation of every citizen will be required. This is everybody's job. We cannot; we dare not; we will not fail. Buy to the limit and remember you are not giving anything away or making any sacrifice when you make an investment in the world's safest securities and that your investment will hasten the end of the war and help to bring the boys home again at the earliest possible moment. Your boys are offering their lives; can you afford to withhold your dollars?

? DAY, ? YEAR

You'd give a lot to be able to fill in the missing numbers for World War II. But do you realize that every bond you buy brings that ultimate date nearer? You may not fire the last shot, but yours may be the bond that paid for the last shot. Give as much as you can for War Bonds. It's your duty as a true American to "back the attack" with bonds.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—The three notes of the NBC chimes—G. E. and C.—have now acquired a voice and have joined the fourth war loan campaign. They say: "Buy War Bonds."

The chimes, which signal time for station breaks on the network, have "learned" to talk or rather sing, with the aid of the three notes struck on an organ, a feminine voice and a device known as a Sonovox. The engineer describes the effect as "voice modulated tones." It is this same equipment which makes trains, musical instruments or other gadgets talk, and has come into wide use for radio sound effect purposes.

Frank Sinatra fans will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing their favorite crooner Monday and Tuesday when "Higher and Higher," a musical comedy, plays at the Majestic theatre. Sinatra sings several numbers and is said to give a fine acting performance. The plot centers in the transformation of a scullery maid into a debutante with the connivance of the household staff and of the penniless but willing master of the mansion.

In addition to Sinatra the cast includes Michele Morgan, Jack Haley, Leon Errol, Victor Borge, Paul and Grace Hartman.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY
Director Irving Pichel adds still another triumph to his list of hits with the 20th Century-Fox picture of MacKinlay Kantor's "Happy Land," which is scheduled to open Wednesday at the Majestic Theatre.

Featured in the absorbing drama, which was produced by Kenneth Macgowan, are Don Ameche, Frances Dee, Harry Carey and Ann Rutherford, with Cara Williams, Richard Crane, Henry Morgan, Minor Wilson and Dickie Moore also included in the cast.

A drama packed musical which offers everything from symphonies to circuses is M-G-M's "Thousands Cheer," lively Technicolor tune featuring Gene Kelly and Kathryn Grayson, John Boles, Mary Astor and Jose Iturbi. The film comes to the Majestic Theatre Friday.

Lively production numbers, skits featuring Judy Garland, Eleanor Powell, Red Skelton, Mickey Rooney, Virginia O'Brien, Ann Sothern, Lucille Ball and many others appear as guest stars highlight the story of an army colonel's daughter who falls in love with a private in the tanks.

As the officer's dazzling daughter, lovely Kathryn Grayson turns in the most important performance of her screen career.
